MEMORANDUM FOR: The Deputy Director for Intelligence

SUBJECT : DDI-Academic Exchange

References : a. 17 February 1971 Memorandum to Heads of Departments and Agencies,
from Chairman, Civil Service Commission, on USG-Academic Exchange
b. 8 March 1971 Memorandum to CIA
Executive Director-Comptroller,
from Director of Personnel, on Interchanges Between Government and the Academic World

1. In response to your request, this memorandum reports the DDI* situation with respect to ref. a's request that all USG Departments and Agencies initiate or expand programs which:

- a. Employ college faculty members during summer and other breaks in their academic schedules.
- b. Enable USG officers to accept part-time faculty appointments.
- c. Enable USG officers to speak on campuses.

2. The DDI situation, in a word, is that (a), the unique CIA considerations of security and continuity place significant limits on the degree to which

*That is, the principally concerned components: OBGI, OCI, OER, OSR, and SRS; plus O/NE. Each of the offices has made its views known to SRS in the preparation of this report.

academic figures can be usefully hired on interim bases, but (b) there is a fair amount of meaningful DDI contact of various types with academia at present, and there is some room for increase therein.

3. Employment of faculty members:

a. None of the indicated DDI components has engaged in full-time employment of faculty members, for more than a summer period, and it is not generally considered to be a very rewarding prospect.

b. Such assignments might be feasible for SRS on rare occasions, depending upon the particular scholar, his speciality, and DDI needs. I am not too sanguine, but would not wish to rule out this occasional option.

c. As for summer employment of faculty members, I have previously concurred in D/Personnel's view, ref. b, that there would be merit in a few assignments of young faculty members, beginning in 1972, to DDI's Summer Intern Program. Such people constitute a special target for present DDI efforts; careful summer assigning and choosing, among individual lecturers, instructors, or assistant professors, could enhance this.

d. With the exception of such an explicit intern program, and of occasional rarities [redacted]

[redacted] there is probably only limited opportunity for expanded CIA summer employment of faculty members
